about your crit sheet

Use this crit sheet to review everyone's assignment including yours.

I developed this for photographers to participate in my critiques. It helps you identify what I'm looking for as a professional. Take note of the criteria I use to determine whether it's a merit, a non-merit or a hero.

So many photographers take critiques personally; that's normal with us creative types! However, at your individual levels, critiques are meant to be educational, insightful and challenging. Keep this with you for your next shoot or critique to move ahead with your photography.
